Loyalty and Trust

- But Ruth replied: “Do not urge me to leave you or to turn from following you. For wherever you go, I will go, and wherever you live, I will live; your people will be my people, and your God will be my God. - Ruth 1:16

Loyalty

Definition: Showing my commitment through difficult times

I WILL...

- Care about people.
- Keep my commitments.
- Encourage others in the right direction.
- Help those in need.
- Serve my community.

A Canada Goose defends its young at any cost. Geese are so committed they will freeze to death during snowstorms rather than leave their eggs.

Loyalty is like tape or glue that is really strong. it doesn't come apart easily. When your friends or family members go through difficult times, you can practice loyalty by encouraging them and finding ways to help. Do not be a “fair-weather friend” — someone who stays when everything is going well, but leaves as soon as trouble comes. Loyal friends, relatives, neighbors, and classmates show their commitment by helping each other during the storms of life.

Let's DISCUSS

- When has someone helped you or your family through a difficult time?
- How can you be a loyal friend or family member?
- Why should you try to protect those who are weak or vulnerable?
- What is the opposite of loyalty?
- What can you do to build trust with someone?
- On a scale of 1-10, how trustworthy are you?
